

Cookie Thief

A Fluency Game

GAME ASSEMBLY

Print all game pages. To create a game logo on the back of the playing cards, print page 19 on the backs of pages 2 through 18.

Laminate pages.

Cut pages into fours. Now you're ready to play!

GAME DIRECTIONS:

To play, students take turns drawing a game card. If a student draws a game card with a fluency sentence on it, he or she reads the sentence. If the sentence is read correctly, the student keeps the card. If the sentence is not read correctly, the student places the card back in the card pile.

If a student draws a BONUS COOKIE! card, he or she gets an extra turn.

Watch out for THIEF! cards. If a student draws a THIEF! card, he or she will be instructed to put some of their cards back!

At the end of playing time, the student with the most cards wins!

The crew
had stew
at noon.

The balloon floats up to the moon.

Sue blew a cool tune on the flute.

The farmer's goose honked at me.

I saw a cocoon on a leaf.

Do you have the rules for the game?

She made a nest for bluebirds.

Sue has a new tooth.

When Leo
is in a goofy mood,
he pretends
he's a lion.

"I see a clue," Dad said to Sue.

He snoops
in Mom's orange thread.

The tune floats over sand dunes
to the sea.

The duke
walks quickly in the spruce forest.

The TV
crew drew clouds and used thin
wires.

May I
play a tune
to help you sleep?

That tuna
sandwich was super duper!

I am truly sick of tuna sandwiches.

Brook is a new student in our class.

Bill will look in the living room for his shoe.

Ed shook his foot
very quickly.

Ned has a hood with a black star
on it.

Susan tries to cook spaghetti.

Tom sits by the brook and reads a book.

This joke book was on the path
home from school.

Mom and Bunny
looked by the babbling
brook.

The goose flew over my head.

"You are a good friend," Bunny
added.

He drew a flute on the white paper.

We got wet from the dew on the grass.

Tonya used glue for her project.

Karen drew a picture of the grocery store.

The town's tower fell down yesterday.

Did you know the brown owl is asleep?

The cow is standing by the red flower.

Take a towel with you to the shower.

The king wore a crown made of gold.

Rain
showers would be good for flowers.

Chowder
the Clown did magic tricks.

A lady in a gown has a gold crown on her head.

"At the circus there are clowns,"
said Dad.

We like our flowers to be tall and pretty.

The cloud is round and high in the sky.

A mouse ran out of the house.

The queen
has a crown
with a big,
red ruby.

Do you know how to play
checkers?

The snow made the ground white and fluffy.

The class put on a puppet show.

We drove downtown to the magic show.

Pat loved her hound named Max.

Dad put a large bone
on the ground.

"Maybe
Max needs
a new doghouse,"
said Mom."

Max and the mouse
were tired
and grouchy.
